

Southwest brings a porch to Bryant Park

Posted by Lucy Blatter on July 16, 2009 5:01 PM

Southwest Airlines is adding some suburbia to Bryant Park.

If you've walked by Bryant Park recently, you may have noticed an unusually suburban atmosphere.

Southwest Porch, set up by Southwest Airlines, has been designed to look like an outdoor living room. The stylish area features free wifi, rocking chairs and large lounge chairs.

Guest can enjoy specialty cocktails or beers, like the Southwest Summer Ale, and a menu created by Tom Colicchio, inspired by Southwest Airline's destinations. Dishes include meatball parm and bratwurst.

(Lizbette Ocasio-Russe)

Posted by Lucy Blatter on July 16, 2009 5:01 PM